

Notifications of Final Examination (including graduation examination)

- 1. The announcement was made in accordance with the decision of NFU epidemic prevention meeting on May 30, 2022.

- 2. Final Examination for the students who are in the first year of four -year college, five-year junior college, and the first year of two-year junior college will be taken as online exam (including practical or experimental classes)

- 3. Date of Final Examination (including graduation examination) for the students who are in the master and Ph.D. degree, in-service master program, in the second to the fourth year of four-year college, the first to the second year of two-year college, and the second year of two-year junior college will be during the 16th to 18th week of this semester. While conducting in-class final exam, it should be avoided whole class gathering. The in-class final exam should proceed in several small groups and different times. If there is a high risk of infection for the final examination after instructors' assessment, then they may proceed by online final exam.

4. Teachers should pay attention to the fairness of assessment when conducting the online examinations.

5. All instructors should announce their ways of teaching adjustment on e-Campus to inform all course-taking students, and all students should pay attention on course adjustment information from e-Campus. Distance learning to refer to “Instruction of Distance learning implement procedure”.

6. If a student is unable to take the exam due to physical conditions, please ask the teacher for a leave of absence and ask the teacher for make-up exam.